HUGE DIRIGIBLE LEAVES FORT WORTH THIS MORNING

(By United Press)

FORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 9.—The Navy dirigible, Shenandoah, resumed her cross country flight toward the Pacific coast after an overnight stay here, when she took off at 9:04 o'clock this morning. The craft circled over the landing field and soared over Fort Worth, seven miles away before slipping westward along the Texas and Pacific. The craft was provisioned during the night. Weather conditions were favorable for the flight.

The giant craft floated over the landing field here at 7:20 last night, having covered the 1550 mile flight from Lakehurst in thirty-four hours and twenty minutes without a stop or difficulty.

Faulty equipment at the helium plant field delayed mooring of the big bag for more than an hour and the Shenandoah was not warped to the mast until 10 o'clock.

Lieutenant J. B. Lawrence of St. Paul was the first officer to swing down the mast closely followed by Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett, chief of the Navy's bureau of aeronautics. Both declared the flight was without mishap and praised the conduct of the big craft on its first landing away from its home base.

The Shenandoah slid out from behind a low-lying cloud bank east of here in darkness, but winking lights showed as the craft circled the landing field.

Swinging over the landing mast at an altitude of 1,000 feet, the Shenandoah slipped several miles to the northwest and headed back for the mast in the face of a light breeze. With her big engines roaring, the ship edged forward until her nose was within three hundred feet of the mast, when a cable was dropped and attached and the power wrenches began to haul their burden in. As the cables tightened, all but the stern engines were shut off and water ballast shifted to bring the stern down. With the big bag on a level with the snubbing gear, the engines operating power for the wrench ran short of gasoline and finally refused to function. The remaining thirty-foot gap between the nose of the craft and the mast was closed by hand power furnished by volunteer workers after more than an hour's effort. A straining cable also threatened to complicate matters, but a satisfactory emergency repair relieved the menace and the Shenandoah rubbed her nose against the mast at ten o'clock and was at rest—the first landing away from Lakehurst and the first visitor at the new landing field here.

Refueling of the craft got under way immediately, after the landing of Admiral Moffett and Commander Landsdowne. Water ballast was taken aboard, but no helium was shipped.

A supply of helium may be taken on here when the Shenandoah return from the coast, scheduled about October 16, Admiral Moffett said.

After photographers had their inning, the admiral was whisked off to the city, seven miles from the landing field, as the over-night guest of city officials. Commander Landsdowne and his men remained at the field with their craft.

The Shenandoah averaged around 56 miles an hour throughout the flight from Lakehurst, Moffett said, hitting it off above sixty with tail winds and slowing down to fifty with head-on currents. Gasoline consumption amounted to approximately a gallon a mile during the flight, according to engineer's report, while oil consumption was too small to record. Water ballast recovered by condensation from gasoline in the motors counterbalanced the weight of the gasoline consumed, maintaining the ballast weight of the craft, it was stated.

Favorable flying weather for the next jump to San Diego, where the craft is scheduled to arrive near midnight tomorrow night, was in prospect today. Officers and men were given their first meal on land here at breakfast with orders to return to the flying field before 8:30 o'clock in readiness for the take-off, scheduled at nine.

Orders are orders, regardless of who is aboard the Shenandoah.

Was it food the airmen wanted when they slid from the mooring mast? It was not. "No smoking" was a standing order.

"There are no orders against smoking on the field, are there," querried Lieut. J. B. Lawrence of Liept. H. E. Davenport, executive commander of the Helium plant.

"None at all," replied Davenport. "Give me a match somebody," Lawrence said as he dragged a loaded "corncob" pipe from his pocket. Admiral Moffet accepted a smoke from a newspaper man.

Members of the crew were allowed to leave the Shenandoah during the night to stretch their legs "and smoke."

BIG AIR SHIP PASSES OVER RANGER

(By United Press)

RANGER, Texas, Oct. 9.—The Shenandoah passed over here flying low at 12:35 this afternoon. The craft circled the city dipping low, then rose and started westward. The ship will probably pass over El Paso shortly after midnight.

PASTOR-HOST WELCOMES DELEGATES AND VISITORS TO SYNOD IN SESSION HERE

The writer of the Epistle to the Hebrews tells us that entertaining is a duty. The people of Mexia consider it a privilege. The Scripture tells us to "neglect not to entertain the stranger for thereby some have entertained angels unawares." We have found our guests angelic in disposition almost without exception. If we do not always act as angels it may be because we are a little tired and weary of getting ready by feeding up the chickens in our back yard and fixing things up. All Mexia welcomes you. The Churches have all worked nobly together to make your stay pleasant. If there is anything you need call on us. We will not promise to get it for you but we will do our dead level best to provide it for you. The Synod of Texas of the Cumberland Church met in this building in 1898. Many of you were present. It is a rare privilege to have you again our guests. We welcome you all not only in word but in heartfelt earnestness. —Victor K. Aubrey, Welcome from the Churches of Mexia.

The Supreme Court set October 11 as the date for the submission of the case shortly before noon today.

JOHN MNAMARA LABOR LEADER AGAIN IN THE TOILS

(By United Press)

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 9.—John McNamara, leader in the labor war which culminated in the bombing of The Los Angeles Times and a dozen other dynamite outrages fourteen years ago, was indicted by the grand jury on four charges of blackmail. The charges grew out of McNamara's activities as the business agent of local unions, subsequent to his release from San Quentin penitentiary.

BIG GASSER BLEW IN NEAR MEXIA

Rich Kennedy No. 1 seven miles southwest from Mexia in the Groesbeck area blew in a big gasser yesterday afternoon late The well is producing from a sand slightly below 2900 foot level. About 25 feet of sand had been drilled when it was decided to set liner and bail. Shortly after the drill stem had been removed the well came in sending gas, drill water and slush high over the 112 foot derrick. On account of coming in unexpectedly all the connections for closing in had not been made, however crews are now busy getting things in shape for closing it in. No work was done last night on account of danger from fire. Numerous oil men were on the scene early today and estimates of the size of the well ran from ten to fifteen million feet a day, some expressing the view that the well may even be larger than the last named figure. The well was drilled by the Bains Creek Petroleum Co. of Mexia T. Frank Smith is general manager for the company and stated that locations for additional wells would be made immediately and said he expected much larger wells would be had higher on the structure. He also stated that he was of the opinion that oil could be produced from the present well just under the gas but said that tests for the oil would be made on future wells nearby and this one saved as a gasser. Mr. Smith is probably more familiar with conditions in the south end of the field than anyone as he has drilled numerus wells in that territory before and was the discoverer of the shallow gas filed near Groesbeck about ten years ago.

WANTS LAFOLLETTE PUT ON THE STAND

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—A demand that Senator Borah immediately call into session and put Senator La Follette on the stand to "tell all he knows" of the republican campaign "slush fund" was made after a conference with President Coolidge by James Goode, former member of congress from Iowa.

A good word in behalf of others costs you little and is worth much.

MEN WANTED IS CRY OF HOUR CHURCHMEN ASSERT

One of the many features of the day's program at the Synod of Texas today was the fellowship luncheon given in the dining room of the first Christian church at noon by the Lions club, especially honoring Rev. George P. Horst D. D., of St. Louis.

The ladies of the Christian church served an elegant luncheon and the visiting delegation voted thanks to them and to the Lions for giving the Synod visitors their plates at the regular weekly meeting hour.

Noel Hollingsworth presided for the Lions.

More than 100 men assembled around the sumptuous spread and feasted for an hour on the edibles and spiritual food afforded by the fellowship of the hour.

The invocation was pronounced by Dr. L. D. Young, pastor of the City Temple at Dallas.

Little Miss Mary Edith Forrest, talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grey Forrest, gave two readings in her delightful manner and Mrs. E. M. Strange sang a beautiful solo, accompanied by Mrs. Rex Forrest at the piano. This feature, too, was generously applauded.

Lions Hollingsworth made a few timely remarks of welcome and then turned the tables over to H. C. Glenn, a Rotarian of Temple, who took charge. He responded to the welcome address, speaking with delight at the luncheon and with gratefulness to the Lions. He then introduced Dr. L. D. Young who in turn introduced the honor guest, Rev. Horst.

Rev. Horst, identified with Young Men's work in the denomination delivered one of finest addresses that has ever been heard in Mexia, one filled with enthusiasm for his subject "Christian Leadership" and one which inspired the gathering as it had not been moved at the Synod before. However, throughout the morning, many of the magnificent addresses delivered at the Central Presbyterian church sounded the same keynote that he sounded which was that "First of all, the church needs leadership.

Dr. Horst declared that the biggest problem of Presbyterians today is leadership. Man power is demanded. Man is the key to success. When man became secondary in the mechanical organization of the church, the church and Christianity suffered. Success in war does not come always to the greatest numbers, but the kind of numbers. He urged enthusiasm for services as being the greatest asset in leadership and admonished those present to select enthusiastic and able leaders to lift the burden of detail from them, as pastors, while they in turn spent more time on the hilltops, communing with God and preparing messages of power for the people who come to them for spiritual food.

The benediction was pronounced by Dr. G. H. Hogan.

LABOR PARTY IN ENGLAND FAILS NEW ELECTION OCT. 29

(By United Press)

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Prime Minister MacDonald took his case to the nation. Appearing in the House of Commons fellowing the defeat of the labor government, MacDonald announced that a general election will be held October 29. The decision was made after a conference with the cabinet.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Premier MacDonald, today requested King George to dissolve parliament, thus necessitating a general election.

The Prime Minister made known his decision to the cabinet when he returned to Downing Street after a 45-minute conference with the King in Buckingham Palace. His announcement was expected following the Labor Government's defeat in the House of Commons last night when a liberal proposal that a committee be appointed to investigate the dropping of proceedings against a Communist editor who had been charged with sedition. The vote was 364 to 198, the Conservation solidly backing the proposal.

Election day probably will be set for Nov. 8 as there is little likelihood the King will refuse to grant a dissolution. The Labor Cabinet, the first to hold office in England is not expected to resign until the nation has stated its judgment at the polls and then only if the vote is against the party.

When the House of Common reconvenes at 3 p. m. it is believed that MacDonald will have gained the King's assent to this effect.

The adverse vote last night was the thirteenth defeat incurred by the Laborites in their nine months in office. Political observers generally believe the conservatives will make gains in the election, the Laborites holding their own and the Liberals losing. The present line-up, is, Conservatives 257; Laborites 193 and Liberals 156. It is almost certain that the conservatives will remain the strongest party numerically and it is likely that ex-Premier Baldwin will be returned to the head of the next Cabinet.

Even At That Accidents Happen

(By United Press)

EL PASO, Oct. 9.—Mrs. R. H. Hicks had burned much of the midnight oil poring over the new booklet of traffic regulations recently issued by the police department.

Early the next morning as she drove down town, a motorcycle officer swung alongside her car.

"God morning, officer," she said as she pulled in to the curb. "Which regulation have I broken now."

"None, madam," the speed-chaser replied. "I just wanted to give you a copy of the new traffic pamphlet."

ROTARIANS HOLD LUNCHEON FOR VISITING MEMBERS

The Mexia Rotary Club held its usual weekly meeting at noon at the High School cafeteria, where honor guests were fellow Rotarians in attendance upon the Synod of Texas.

Vice President I. W. Keys served as leader in the absence of President Hardy Eubanks, who was unable to preside on account of sickness. He was present, however, in order to maintain his 100 per cent attendance.

Among the guests introduced were
C. I. Broad, Paris.
J. A. McMillion, Alpine.
Rev. T. A. Davis, Port Arthur.
Frank Wear, Paris.
M. W. Cunningham, Amarillo.
E. A. Shelton, El Paso.
Bob Joiner, Gainesville.
J. E. Aubrey, Denison.
J. W. Culberson, Wichita Falls.
Nat Grofton, Wichita Falls.
Roy B. Bass, Mexia.
R. G. Chapman, Dallas.

An entertainment feature of the program was singing by high school girls. Mr. Keys thanked them and Mrs. Armstrong and Superintendent C. A. Puckett for the entertainment and the delicious luncheon.

George Willets was in charge of the program, which was one of the most enjoyable yet held under the auspices of Mexia Rotary. Buck Tidwell gave a classification talk, giving in his inimitable style a dissertation on his manner of handling Purina feeds.

Buck was followed by Rev. J. E. Aubrey of Denison, father of Rev. Victor K. Aubrey, Synod's Pastor Host.

He delivered an inspiring address on the value of Rotary in putting to work the Ten Commandments and Golden Rule, especially among the boys and girls.

Rev. Bob Joiner, of Gainesville made a splendid address on the Spirit of Rotary and took occasion to praise Superintendent Puckett, formerly of Gainesville. His remarks were highly appreciated by the gathering, indicating that they were fully in accord with the sentiment expressed regarding the Mexia school man.

ZACHARY IN BOX WINS VICTORY IN SIXTH GAME

Zachary was today's hero in the sixth game of the World's Series, when he pitched a 7 hit game for the Washington Senators, defeating the New York Giants by the score of 2 to 1.

The Senators came into the game fighting with their backs to the wall determined to prevent the Giants from winning the world's championship, which would have been the result had the New York Club been victors.

Art. Nehf who has been suffering with an injured hand for the past several days took the mound for the Giants and pitched his usual air-tight game, but John McGraw saw fit to pull him in the eighth inning replacing him with Ryan, who held his own for the remaining two innings.

One of the largest crowds yet to attend a world series game played at Washington was on hand to help the Senators put over their greatest effort of the season to save the day. Today's game was a rare specimen of baseball, only one error being made during the entire game.

Peckinpaugh, the hero of the Senators who was out of yesterday's game on accout of an injured leg, played one of the best games of his career up until the ninth inning when he again hurt the injured member in attempting to make a hard catch and had to be removed from the game. Bluege was moved from his position on third base to cover short for Peckinpaugh, while Taylor was placed on third.

Possibly Harris, the Senator's manager, deserves as much credit for their victory as does Zachary. Harris came to the bat in the last of the fifth inning with two men on base and hit a single, scoring Peckinpaugh and McNeely.

Nehf became a little wild in the sixth inning and walked two men but came out of the difficulty without assistance.

Washington's victory today tied the games of the world series giving each three games to their cerdit, the deciding game will be played at Washington Friday afternoon. Tickets for Friday's game were put on sale within an hour after the final ball was pitched today. President Coolidge is one of the most interested fans in the capitol city, he was on hand five minutes before the start of the game.

It is not known who will be the batteries in Friday's game.

Work will soon be started on the Students Directory, and it will be ready for publication about November 15.

"The Proceedings of the Convention of the Texas Bar Association of 1924," published by the Texas Law Review is on the press at present.

Two books, of about three hundred pages each, bound in half leather, are soon to be published by the University Press. One of these books, "Birds of Texas," was written by George Finlay Simmons, who is at present in the South Sea Islands. Publication of this volume has been delayed on account of the author's absence.

Last April 1500 copies of a book entitled "Legends of Texas" was published and proved to be so popular that a second edition of 1250 copies is in press and will be ready for sale early in November. Court Criminal Appeals At Work

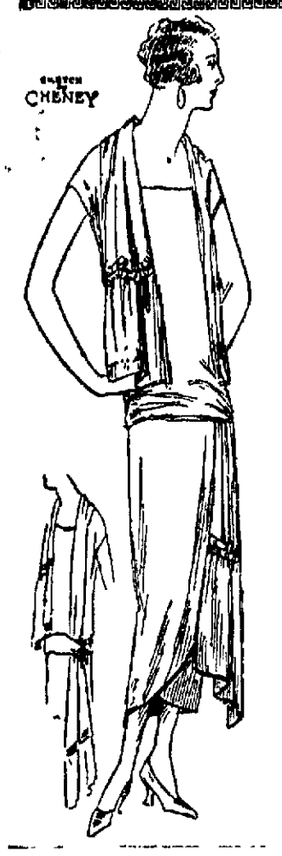
(By United Press)

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 9.—Twenty-four cases already have been affirmed and eight reversed and remanded by the Criminal Court of Appeals during the new term session.

Cases affirmed include: Alex Bridges, Llano county, murderer of Bart Cooper, life sentence; Alton Parker, Jones county, criminal assault, 10 years; O. G. Glasco, Lamar county, arson, two years; Marisio Valdez, oGnzales county, murder, 10 years; R. C. Dennington, Knox county, false swearing in aiding his brother to obtain a marriage license, two years.

The case of Matthew Thomas, Bastrop county, criminal assault, ninety nine years, was reversed and remanded. The subject of the assault was a woman 47 years old whose mother testified she was afflicted with epilepsy. It was incumbent upon the state to show by competent testimony that the defendent had knowledge of the woman's mental condition. Failure to produce this evidence constituted error and cause for reversal.

SMART SIMPLICITY IS ACHIEVED BY THIS FROCK OF FROSTKREPE



MAKING both ends meet is by no means the problem of this charming frock of Frostkrepe. It is a question rather of keeping them as far apart as possible. One would hardly suspect that the graceful scarf falling over the right shoulder, and the flowing sash, are part of the bodice. But so it is. The secret is this. The bodice is prolonged into two ends on the left side and these are simply knotted, one end being thrown upward, passing around the neck and falling over the shoulder; while the other end falls along the skirt in sash fashion.

The influence of the scarf still appears in the frocks of the new mode, but it is now merely a touch rather than the enveloping accessory of the earlier season. Jenny, says Henry Creange, uses yokes on many of her dresses, making them of chiffon and prolonging them in a scarf which winds around the neck and is knotted at the side. A late cable received by the Cheney Style Service from Patou's opening, advises us that "Patou's necklines are en bateau or round in front and pointed at the back; often a band is fixed to the decollete in front and the ends are tied at the back, or else two narrow panels hang from the shoulders and are tied together." Coming back to the model sketched, smart simplicity is really the quality of this frock. There is absolutely no trimming, the characteristic sparkle of the material giving sufficient life to the aspect. Two rows of shirring, however, are interestingly used to simulate scarf ends.

The skirt of this frock, by the way, is made in approved wrap around style, or as the French more picturesquely say, "en portefeuille."

One Escaped, One Killed In Fall

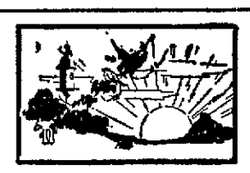
(By United Press)

DALLAS, Teas, Oct. 9.—"Sure lucky he didn't get killed," remarked J. M. Hopp to a group of fellow workmen at the Sunset High School now under construction, speaking of his friend John Boyd who was injurd from a fall a scaffold.

Three hours later Hopp died from a fall of practically the same nature as that of his friend. Details of the fatal slip are not known. He was picked up in an unconscience state at the foot of a starway, but doctors at the hospital to which he was rushed could do nothing.

Funeral services were held this (Thursday) morning.

Judge Louis T. Carpenter of Dallas is here for the Synod. He is one of the leading Presbyterians in Texas.



As Mild as Morning Dew!

"Impossible!" you may say, but a test will prove it a fact. A new mild and non-sickening calomel has been perfected—one that men, women and children can take with the greatest of safety. It is free from impurities that cause salivation, free from cramping, griping, drastic effects, free from all unpleasantness. It works on a new principle. The purest English calomel is combined with pepsin. The pepsin dissolves slowly and allows the calomel to be absorbed into the system without forming a strong calomel solution. That is why it cannot sicken. From your druggist. Prepared by the Pepsinated Calomel Co., Atlanta, Ga.

RHEUMATISM
Leaves You Forever

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenrhu, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenrhu has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and piteous and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen of Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of Allenrhu, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenrhu decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance. FEATURED PLAYER IN "EMPTY HANDS" IS A PHILOSOPHER

Jack Holt, who has the featured male role in "Empty Hands," a Victor Fleming-Paramount production at the National Theatre today is a philosopher of no mean ability. Some of his sayings are well know thruout filmdom. Here are a few of them:

When an extra ceases to look for glory and fame and welcomes a day's work because it means a few dollars, ambition suffers a cruel blow.

Bank presidents are not made in a day; neither do Senators rise overnight. No one can be a star on h's first entrance into motion pictures. Anybody can direct a motion picture in his own mind. It is the hard facts of actual direction that distinguish a real director.

Holt is a parctical philosopher, that is to say, he practises what he preaches. Always ambitions to succeed, he struggled along for years playing small parts cheerfully and always striving to do his best. Today, despite the fact that he is one of screendom's greatest favorites, he works just as hard as when he was an obscure extra.

And that is as it should be!

JOY KILLS INVENTOR WHO PERFECTS NEW AIR MOTOR

ROME, Oct. 9.—Extreme joy over having perfected a new type of compressed air motor is believed by medical authorities to have been responsible for the death of Viviano Generini, aged sixty-one.

The aged inventor's lifeless body was found lying across the motor in his experimental shop, where he had worked indefatigably for many years.

HOW'S BUSINESS?

"Judging by my own experiences I believe the automobile business is better in Mexia now than it was this time last year," said Oliver Gilmore, when asked the usual question.

Oliver moved about a year ago from a location opposite the present high school building on Red River street to a larger building and business on South Belknap, recently locating about a block further west on Fannin street.

"There are probably ten or twelve fewer garages and repair shops than were found in Mexia a few months ago, while the tax collector's records show a continually increasing registration of motor cars in the county, "remarked Mr. Gilmore in substantiation. "While I do not carry a large stock of automobile accessories, I sell gasoline and oils, and make a specialty of repairing, general motor work. My business is considerably better than a year ago, or for that matter, better than at any time since I have been in business in Mexia. I am mighty well pleased with the old town."

Oliver says the paved streets have helped the motor car industry considerably. Repairs are principally on service cars, automobiles and trucks which go through the daily grind of hard service and wear, while the pleasure car is not such an item in the repair shop.

USE SULPHUR TO HEAL YOUR SKIN

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arms, or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Mentho-Sulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this Mentho-Sulphur brings. Even fiery, itching eczema is dried right up.

Get a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.—(Adv.)

HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE EARLY THURSDAY MORN.

The home of W. L. Sawyers on Brooks street, East Mexia, was completely destroyed by fire about 1:25 a. m. Thursday. The fire started from inside of the dwelling, but origin is unknown.

It is reported that the home was covvered by $1,000 insurance, the furniture by about $500. The home of L. S. Reynolds, just north of the Sawyer's home suffered $150 or $200 damage according to reports, part of the roof was burned. The building was saved from complete destruction by the quick work of the Fire Department.

This is the first fire loss to marr Fire Prevention week in Mexia which started Oct. 5th. Much cleaning up has been going on around the city during the week, a general clean-up had just taken place in the neighborhood of this unfortunate occurrence.

WESTMINSTER AND LON MORRIS JUNIOR COLLEGE ELEVENS CLASH ON LOCAL GRIDIRON FRIDAY 3:30

Tomorrow is the big day in Mexia, the Lon Morris College aggregation and Westminster clash on the local gridiron at 3:30 o'clock.

Coach D. E. Hawk and his squad are due to arrive at 3:25 o'clock Thursday afternoon from Jacksonville and will go immediately to Tehuacana, where they will spend most of their time while here.

Both Lon Morris and Westminster have attracted attention in this district of Junior Colleges this season. Lon Morris has defeated T. M. C. and the Wildcats have had only one score of six points against them so far this season.

Coach Chas. Lewis has arranged to have this game played on Friday instead of Saturday so as to enable the business men to come out and see a real battle. They have complained that they are not able to attend the games played on Saturday.

This will possibly be the last game to be played on the local gridiron this season by the Westminster Wildcats, no others are yet on the schedule. Next week they go to Hillsboro to clash with the Hillsboro Junior College.

Dutch Cox who sustained two broken ribs in the game with Wesley two weeks ago played in the game against T. M. C. on last week and the fractures were renewed. He has not been out in uniform in the past several days and Coach Lewis states that he will not be used in Friday's game. Jot Potter and Hunt will be used at halves while Thompson will play fullback position.

The whole town of Tehuacana backing Westminster to the last man, will be on hand if it is possible for them to get here.

A large crowd is expected from surrounding territory, as these two elevens expect to fight to the finish. It is reported that the two squads are evenly matched in weight making a display of real football an assurance. This is the second Junior College game to be played in Mexia, the other drawing a record crowd for a football game.

The lineup given out for the start of the game for the Westminster Wildcats is as follows:

L. E. Warner, 174 lbs.
L. T. Green, 185 lbs.
L. G. Battle, 235 lbs.
C. Prince, 170 lbs.
R. G. Angel, 200 lbs.
R. T. Merrell, 175 lbs.
R. E. Roach, 170 lbs.
Q. Wilson, 165 lbs.
L. H. Hunt, 160 lbs.
R. H. Potere, Capt., 175 lbs.
Full Thompson, 185 lbs.

The average weight of these eleven men is 181 1-3 lbs.

RADIO RAMBLINGS.

By HARRY PORTER

Here I am again after an absence of several weeks with some radio findings of the past week which I hope will prove interesting instructive and amusing.

You know gentle readers it is customary among radiophans to voice their appreciation by card or some form of communication to the station or stations when they were pleased with the program or selection rendered by said station or stations, and in that way the efforts of the broadcasters are spurred on to please their listeners. Now I don't know how my ramblings are received and am really at loss whether to continue writing or not. So you readers can send in your applause cards, telegrams, letters or complaints to H. A. P. Care News Pub. Co. Just decided to reopen this column last Tuesday and began taking notes of the things that struck my fancy, pronto and listen radiophans and readers, the Magnolia Petroleum Co. has a fine station broadcasting from Beaumont, Texas and it must be a 360 meters, 500 Watt outfit from the way it comes in over my set. They have not been at the broadcasting game long enough to polish off the rough spots as yet but they put on a fine program and are independent of outside help as far as artists are concerned for they have some wonderful material within their own ranks, their saxaphone sextet is the best I have ever heard over radio. The director Dr. Harry Cloud is the composer of Magnolia Blossom the musical hit of the 1923 Dallas Fair and a musician known to all music lovers of Texas.

K. D. K. A. Pittsburg, Pa. relaying through K. F. K. X. Hastings Nebraska were on Tuesday night rendering musical gems from the light opera, little Charley a fine program, believe me!

W. S. B. Atlanta Journal had Bill Splawn in character singing one of his songs being, "Nobody's Business If I Do."

Also Brooks Arnold Home Town String Band.

W. B. A. P. Ft. Worth Star-Telegram, put one over all the broadcasting stations Friday night, when they had Hon. Andy Gump speak in behalf of his candidacy for President. I have heard John W. Davis, Senator Wheeler and the prohibition candidate over radio but I must say that Mr. Gump certainly placed himself before the public in true Gump style and fashion in his speech to radio listeners Friday night and I hope he will retain Mr. Gallagher his campaign manager as his Tumulty when he is elected for he deserves the position. D. C. Dunn also went over big with his one string violin made from a sugar box, his rendition of "Wonderful One," was indeed soul inspiring, Miss Dodson at the piano accompanied him.

Another Scoop for W. B. A. P. beginning Oct. 13 at 4 p. m. and continuing each day thereafter they will broadcast description of missing people. So if you have anyone of you dear ones lost to you W. B. A. P. will help you find them. Just write or wire them a description and they will help you. An illustration of the efficiency of radio was given during the broadcasting of the Dixie Series. A. Mr. Davis of Omaha, Texas sent a description of his son from whom he had not heard from for some time. W. B. A. P. sent the message out one day and re-broadcasted it the next day and within 30 minutes after the second message went out Mr. Davis wired W. B. A. P. that he had heard from his son who was in Dixon, Tenn, 450 miles away.

Some gems of music with suggestive titles heard were: Bringing Home the Bacon, In A Rendezvous, To the Sweetest Little Girl in Tennessee and Put Away a Little Ray of Sunshine. It will come in handy some gray rainy day.

POISONOUS GASES DANGEROUS TO CHILDREN IN THE HOME

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 9.—With the first breath of autumn tingling in the air, the Man of the household wakes up some invigorating morning with the discovery that it is time to "put up the stoves." So that evening when he comes home he goes to the garage, the attic, or the basement and arouses the family heater from its summer sleep. And since Mr. Man is a Texan, where gas is one of the principal fuels, the stove is probably a gas heater.

Mr. Man's wife looks at the stove, rusty from its long rest, and immediately announces that it must be polished before it goes in her newly decorated dining room. Mr. Man discovers, too, that the burner is a bit wobbly and he decides to have the stove expert come out the next day and look over their faithful old friend. For he knows that his stove like his flivver, needs a thorough cleaning before it can be expected to give good service.

So the next morning Mr. Expert comes out. He says to Mr. Man's wife, "Look here, Madam, you aren't going to put up this stove without its being connected to a vent—and this old rubber hose is worn out and leaky. You ought to have a metal hose. Rubber hose is worn out and leaky. You ought to have a metal hose. Rubber hose is as obsolete as a crank on a flivver."

Mr. Man's wife has never heard about this but Mr. Expert begins to tell her how dangerous rubber hose and a ventless stove can be. And this is what he tells her:

Many of the headaches, sore throats, and colds that Mr. Man, his wife and the kiddies have every winter can be traced to the poisonous gasses that remain in the room if there is no vent pipe. One of the principal products of combustion is carbon dioxide, and while it is not poisonous, it will not support animal life. If the burner is not properly adjusted another gas is given off, carbon monoxide—the same deadly poison that comes from the exhaust of an automobile. Heaters without vent pipes should never be burned in a closed room.

The ideal gas heater is made with a closed combustion chamber which is connected with a vent pipe, but is not open to the air of the room. A heater of this kind can be burned continuously without vitiating the air in the slightest way. Further information concerning safe gas heaters may be obtained by writing the State Health Department at Austin.

CARD OF THANKS.

We take this method of thanking our friends and neighbors for their kindness in our misfortune and the many nice and useful things that have been given us. We can fully realize no matter how little one has it is worth so much to them and sincerely hope none of you will ever have the same experience.

MR. and MRS. J. I. PITTS and Children.

THIS QUAKER MAID SHOWS DIRECTOIRE INFLUENCE

THERE is a quaint and charming mixture of the Quaker and the Directoire in this afternoon frock of light grey crepe satin. The color and the demure apron and bow may seem to lean to the Quaker, but to counteract this tendency there is the dashing jabot, the sign manual of a period by no means Puritanical; while the sleeves have a thought too much flippancy for the sober Society of Friends.

The jabot, by the way, having hovered for some time on the outskirts of fashion, receiving attention merely as a symptom or indication of the Directoire mode, has become bold with the favor accorded its first modest efforts, and here appears as the piece de resistance, or, we might even go farther and say the raison d'etre of this charming gown.

For it is the falling cascade of the facings of this frock which give it its picturesque character. Not a little of its charm may also be attributed to the combination of color, the light grey of the dress, and the golden ribbon bordering the facings and making the tie.

Crepe satin, especially Mirrokrepe, is a leading fabric of the season. We are told by Henri Creange, fashion authority, that the Parisian couturiers do not tire of working original themes in this material, by using alternately the lustrous and the crepe sides.

This frock, while at first glance appearing to have little in common with the tube silhouette, will be found upon closer study to be built according to the approved formula, for the rounded apron is ingeniously applied to a narrow foundation, to give the new widened silhouette without in any way affecting the basic slim straightness of line.

DAWES MUST GET OFF BROOKHART REITERATES

CEDAR RAPIDS, Oct. 8.—"Dawes must get off the ticket and Coolidge must get on the platform. They can't fool Iowa farmers. That's my stand," declared Senator Smith Brookhart upon arrival here for an address before C. O. F. college students.

"Find The Man" —Judge Crawford

(By United Press)

DALLAS, Oct. 9.—No longer will the woman alone pay in Dallas.

The double standard of justice received a knockout here recently in Corporation's Court when Judge F. D. Crawford issued an edict that in the future vice raiders must "find the man."

Judge Crawford, in setting a precedent for American vice control declared "that it was not right to drag a woman out of a room and bring her into court bowed in shame to face the cynical smiles of men."

Dallas police must bring the man along or the woman will be discharged, the judge declared in conclusion.

A Statement About TRUE STORY

TRUE STORY is today, and it has been since its first issue in May, 1919, under the direct personal editorial superivision of Bernarr Macfadden.

In addition to a group of professional readers, through whose hands must pass every manuscript submitted to the Macfadden Publications, a ministerial board must put its seal of approval on every feature accepted for publication in TRUE STORY.

This carefulness in selection, together with the expression of the high ideals to which TRUE STORY is committed, has given it the most unique position ever attained by a magazine in the hearts and the homes of the American people.

MEXIA WELCOMES TEXAS SYNOD WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Rev. J. S. Hodges of Denison, Moderator for the Synod of Texas of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A. called the 1924 session to order at 7:30 Wednesday night its opening session at the Central Presbyterian church.

The church was taxed to accommodate the large congregation that had assembled. More than one hundred of delegates and scores of visitors from all over the state, as well as Board representatives of the denomination from out of Texas and Louisiana points, were present, heard the splendid program, of music the magnificent addresses and the able sermon.

The address of welcome was delivered by L. S. Patterson, which was pronounced by many as being the finest welcome address they had ever heard. His remarks rang with sincerity and good humor and those who heard him are not the least doubtful about the spirit of progress and hospitality abounding here.

Mr. Patterson stated that he could think of no greater honor than that which had been conferred upon him in being selected from among a fine, forward looking set of boosters and business men, to deliver the address of welcome to such a distinguished gathering. "It is an honor and a privilege," he continued, "that any business man would be proud of. It was my pleasure to preside at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce when the question of your coming was brought up for consideration by our former Secretary, Ben F. Stollenwerck and from that time on, we have heard no mention of your coming save in a joyous mood.

"Friends, it gives me great pleasure in behalf of the business men of this city to welcome you here tonight. It is to such a people as you that this country owes its prosperity. To almost every corner of the world, you have carried the blessed word of the Saviour. There is no greater calling in the world than that of teacher

We have made wonderful advancement in Mexia within the past few years. Today we have miles and miles of paved streets. We have a fine public library and a beautiful playground. I want here to pay a tribute to some of Mexia's public spirited citizens. You will find their homes happy and beautiful and we want you folks to know that you are welcome. You want to come into our offices and use our conveniences and before you leave we want you to make a comparison and we want you to go away feeling that Mexia is glad you came. Our automobiles are at your disposal. We want you to ride over our beautiful streets and even visit our jail, the only place there is no activity is it, as it has been something like a year since it has had an occupant. We want you to feel at home. Just remember this, the latch string is out and Mexia is yours while you are with us."

To this Rev. J. S. Hodges, the Moderator, responded as follows:

In response to this address of welcome I think I detect a little evidence of conspiracy on the part of the Pastor Host and this man Patterson, for the pastor says they have been feeding the chickens in the backyard getting them fat, while Patterson says they have all been called up and hid away somewhere. I don't know whether that is a good note to sound to a bunch of preachers to tell them that all of the chickens have been hid away or not. I have been on the streets some this afternoon and I have met some of the citizens of this good city and they all talked just like these speakers who have preceded me. You hear wonderful stories about this city, about its wonderful streets, wonderful business and all of the things that citizens usually give you by boosting their home town. There is only one thing that I would like to add to what they have already told you. I have been wondering why they do not make a seaport town out of Mexia and the way that it can be done is to lay a 2 in. pipe from here to the Gulf and if he can suck as hard as he can blow they will soon have plenty of water here. However, I do not believe that would be any more true of Mexia than any other place to find citizens who will boost their home town, who have pride in their home town and who are willing to get up and say that they have wonderful things, and we are already beginning to feel very much at home. The Synod of Texas would feel that it is welcome because of the wonderful arrangements that have been made to make ourcoming one of joy and one of blessing, and we are going to try to conduct ourselves so when we get ready to leave the jail will still be empty.

H. L. Hall who tendered the invitation to the Synod to come to Mexia presented a historic gavel, made from wood used in one of the first building of old Trinity University at Tehuacana. Many of the visiting delegates had attended Trinity when it was located here and were extremely gratified at the gift.

Mr. Hall in presenting the gavel said:

Mr. Moderator and Brethren of the Texas Synod:

This beautiful little gavel which I hold in my hand, made by the Manuel Training Department of Mexia High School, and the silver plate so beautifully engraved telling the wonderful history, presented and made by L. S. Patterson Jewelry Store is really beautiful, but its intrinsic value as compared with the history is small indeed, for sirs, its history is enthroned in the minds and hearts of thousands of men and women throughout this broad State of Texas, for this gavel was made from a piece of timber secured from the original building at Tehuacana Hills in which Trinity University was first founded in 1869, and it is my privilege and pleasure in behalf of the Central Presbyterian Church and the entire citizenship of Mexia to present it through you to the Synod of Texas now assembled in our midst.

Rev. Hodges delivered a masterful sermon on "Mountain Movers" using as his text Luke 24:44 48. No man is so low in sin but that Jesus can save him, he stated. "The whole wide world must be taken for Jesus and we in our day must not be slackers on the job. Let us marshal all our means to the securing of workers for the generation to follow us. From one generation to another the work shall go on until away yonder in the golden future the last word will be preached and millions will serve Him, and the time will be when every knee shall bow and every tongue shall confess that Jesus is the Christ to the glory of God the Father."

Following roll call, Rev. G. H. Hogan, D. D. pastor of the church at Waxahachie, was elected moderator, taking the gavel immediately, his duties then beginning.

President Coolidge Congratulates Faithful Postal Employe for His Frustration of Attempted Robbery

President Coolidge's appreciation of the faithful service of postal employes was emphasized when Eugene Stack, youthful postal clerk, was summoned to Washington and rewarded and honored for his heroism in frustrating a mail robbery recently at East Orange, N. J.

This latest hero of the Government's army of civilian employes was given a reward of $2,000, officially cited by the Post Office Department and then was taken by Postmaster General New to the White House where he was congratulated by President Coolidge. The President was keenly interested in Mr. Stack's heroic act, and listened attentively while the postal worker told how, after having been wounded by bandits, he shot and killed one of them and routed the other in protecting valuable registered mail. Mr. Stack was wounded twice. He has won expressions of admiration from the entire postal service, as well as from many individuals throughout the country.

In presenting the reward in behalf of the government, and commending him for his bravery and faithful performance of his duty, Postmaster General New told Stack that the Army and Navy decorated their men for conspicuous acts of bravery, but the Post Office Department had no way of doing that other than to place in an employe's record a citation for such acts. The reward given Mr. Stack is the limit allowed by Congress, and Postmaster General New said he considered the citation of far greater value than the reward. The document, which was presented in the presence of postal and other government officials, cited Stack for conspicuous loyalty to the service in defending the mails at the peril of his life, and recorded the government's appreciation of his bravery.

GO TO CHURCH OCTOBER 19.

Last Sunday Rev. W. B. Andrews announced that October 19th next Sunday week—will be "Go-To-Church"Sunday for all Mexia Methodists. Automobiles will be provided for the old people and the shutins. It will be the pleasure of all the faithful attendants to see that every Methodist, whether by consanguinity, adoption or otherwise, gets an insistent urge to go to church that day. The choir promises to do its best that day. Old hymns will be sung. The pastor says he does his best every Sunday, but that day he hopes to do his best best.

J. E. Simco has bought from J. W. Ward the large building just across from the T. and B. HUGE DIRIGIBLE LEAVES FORT WORTH THIS MORNING

(By United Press)

FORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 9.—The Navy dirigible, Shenandoah, resumed her cross country flight toward the Pacific coast after an overnight stay here, when she took off at 9:04 o'clock this morning. The craft circled over the landing field and soared over Fort Worth, seven miles away before slipping westward along the Texas and Pacific. The craft was provisioned during the night. Weather conditions were favorable for the flight.

The giant craft floated over the landing field here at 7:20 last night, having covered the 1550 mile flight from Lakehurst in thirty-four hours and twenty minutes without a stop or difficulty.

Faulty equipment at the helium plant field delayed mooring of the big bag for more than an hour and the Shenandoah was not warped to the mast until 10 o'clock.

Lieutenant J. B. Lawrence of St. Paul was the first officer to swing down the mast closely followed by Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett, chief of the Navy's bureau of aeronautics. Both declared the flight was without mishap and praised the conduct of the big craft on its first landing away from its home base.

The Shenandoah slid out from behind a low-lying cloud bank east of here in darkness, but winking lights showed as the craft circled the landing field.

Swinging over the landing mast at an altitude of 1,000 feet, the Shenandoah slipped several miles to the northwest and headed back for the mast in the face of a light breeze. With her big engines roaring, the ship edged forward until her nose was within three hundred feet of the mast, when a cable was dropped and attached and the power wrenches began to haul their burden in. As the cables tightened, all but the stern engines were shut off and water ballast shifted to bring the stern down. With the big bag on a level with the snubbing gear, the engines operating power for the wrench ran short of gasoline and finally refused to function. The remaining thirty-foot gap between the nose of the craft and the mast was closed by hand power furnished by volunteer workers after more than an hour's effort. A straining cable also threatened to complicate matters, but a satisfactory emergency repair relieved the menace and the Shenandoah rubbed her nose against the mast at ten o'clock and was at rest—the first landing away from Lakehurst and the first visitor at the new landing feild here.

Refueling of the craft got under way immediately, after the landing of Admiral Moffett and Commander Landsdowne. Water ballast was taken aboard, but no helium was shipped.

A supply of helium may be taken on here when the Shenandoah return from the coast, scheduled about October 16, Admiral Moffett said.

After photographers had their inning, the admiral was whisked off to the city, seven miles from the landing field, as the over-night guest of city officials. Commander Landsdowne and his men remained at the field with their craft.

The Shenandoah averaged around 50 miles an hour throughout the flight from Lakehurst, Moffett said, hitting it off above sixty with tail winds and slowing down to fifty with head-on currents. Gasoline consumption amounted to approximately a gallon a mile during the flight, according to engineer's report, while oil consumption was too small to record. Water ballast recovered by condensation from gasoline in the motors counterbalanced the weight of the gasoline consumed, maintaining the ballast weight of the craft, it was stated.

Favorable flying weather for the next jump to San Diego, where the craft is scheduled to arrive near midnight tomorrow night, was in prospect today. Officers and men were given their first meal on land here at breakfast with orders to return to the flying field before 8:30 o'clock in readiness for the take-off, scheduled at nine.

Orders are orders, regardless of who is aboard the Shenandoah.

Was it food the airmen wanted when they slid from the mooring mast? It was not. "No smoking" was a standing order.

"There are no orders against smoking on the field, are there," querried Lieut. J. B. Lawrence of Liept. H. E. Davenport, executive commander of the Helium plant.

"None at all," replied Davenport. "Give me a match somebody," Lawrence said as he dragged a loaded "corncob" pipe from his pocket. Admiral Moffet accepted a smoke from a newspaper man.

Members of the crew were allowed to leave the Shenandoah during the night to stretch their legs "and smoke."

BIG AIR SHIP PASSES OVER RANGER

(By United Press)

RANGER, Texas, Oct. 9.—The Shenandoah passed over here flying low at 12:35 this afternoon. The craft circled the city dipping low, then rose and started westward. The ship will probably pass over El Paso shortly after midnight.

PASTOR-HOST WELCOMES DELEGATES AND VISITORS TO SYNOD IN SESSION HERE

The writer of the Epistle to the Hebrews tells us that entertaining is a duty. The people of Mexia consider it a privilege. The Scripture tells us to "neglect not to entertain the stranger for thereby some have entertained angels unawares." We have found our guests angelic in disposition almost without exception. If we do not always act as angels it may be because we are a little tired and weary of getting ready by feeding up the chickens in our back yard and fixing things up. All Mexia welcomes you. The Churches have all worked nobly together to make your stay pleasant. If there is anything you need call on us. We will not promise to get it for you but we will do our dead level best to provide it for you. The Synod of Texas of the Cumberland Church met in this building in 1898. Many of you were present. It is a rare privilege to have you again our guests. We welcome you all not only in word but in heartfelt earnestness. —Victor K. Aubrey, Welcome from the Churches of Mexia.

JOHN MNAMARA LABOR LEADER AGAIN IN THE TOILS

(By United Press)

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 9.—John McNamara, leader in the labor war which culminated in the bombing of The Los Angeles Times and a dozen other dynamite outrages fourteen years ago, was indicted by the grand jury on four charges of blackmail. The charges grew out of McNamara's activities as the business agent of local unions, subsequent to his release from San Quentin penitentiary.

BIG GASSER BLEW IN NEAR MEXIA

Rich Kennedy No. 1 seven miles southwest from Mexia in the Groesbeck area blew in a big gasser yesterday afternoon late The well is producing from a sand slightly below 2900 foot level. About 25 feet of sand had been drilled when it was decided to set liner and bail. Shortly after the drill stem had been removed the well came in sending gas, drill water and slush high over the 112 foot derrick. On account of coming in unexpectedly all the connections for closing in had not been made, however crews are now busy getting things in shape for closing it in. No work was done last night on account of danger from fire. Numerous oil men were on the scene early today and estimates of the size of the well ran from ten to fifteen million feet a day, some expressing the view that the well may even be larger than the last named figure. The well was drilled by the Bains Creek Petroleum Co. of Mexia T. Frank Smith is general manager for the company and stated that locations for additional wells would be made immediately and said he expected much larger wells would be had higher on the structure. He also stated that he was of the opinion that oil could be produced from the present well just under the gas but said that tests for the oil would be made on future wells nearby and this one saved as a gasser. Mr. Smith is probably more familiar with conditions in the south end of the field than anyone as he has drilled numerus wells in that territory before and was the discoverer of the shallow gas filled near Groesbeck about ten years ago.

MEN WANTED IS CRY OF HOUR CHURCHMEN ASSERT

One of the many features of the day's program at the Synod of Texas today was the fellowship luncheon given in the dining room of the first Christian church at noon by the Lions club, especially honoring Rev. George P. Horst D. D., of St. Louis.

The ladies of the Christian church served an elegant luncheon and the visiting delegation voted thanks to them and to the Lions for giving the Synod visitors their plates at the regular weekly meeting hour.

Noel Hollingsworth presided for the Lions.

More than 100 men assembled around the sumptuous spread and feasted for an hour on the edibles and spiritual food afforded by the fellowship of the hour.

The invocation was pronounced by Dr. L. D. Young, pastor of the City Temple at Dallas.

Little Miss Mary Edith Forrest, talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grey Forrest, gave two readings in her delightful manner and Mrs. E. M. Strange sang a beautiful solo, accompanied by Mrs. Rex Forrest at the piano. This feature, too, was generously applauded.

Lions Hollingsworth made a few timely remarks of welcome and then turned the tables over to H. C. Glenn, a Rotarian of Temple, who took charge. He responded to the welcome address, speaking with delight at the luncheon and with gratefulness to the Lions. He then introduced Dr. L. D. Young who in turn introduced the honor guest, Rev. Horst.

Rev. Horst, identified with Young Men's work in the denomination delivered one of finest addresses that has ever been heard in Mexia, one filled with enthusiasm for his subject "Christian Leadership" and one which inspired the gathering as it had not been moved at the Synod before. However, throughout the morning, many of the magnificent addresses delivered at the Central Presbyterian church sounded the same keynote that he sounded which was that "First of all, the church needs leadership.

Dr. Horst declared that the biggest problem of Presbyterians today is leadership. Man power is demanded. Man is the key to success. When man became secondary in the mechanical organization of the church, the church and Christianity suffered. Success in war does not come always to the greatest numbers, but the kind of numbers. He urged enthusiasm for services as being the greatest asset in leadership and admonished those present to select enthusiastic and able leaders to lift the burden of detail from them, as pastors, while they in turn spent more time on the hilltops, communing with God and preparing messages of power for the people who come to them for spiritual food.

The benediction was pronounced by Dr. G. H. Hogan.

LABOR PARTY IN ENGLAND FAILS NEW ELECTION OCT. 29

(By United Press)

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Prime Minister MacDonald took his case to the nation. Appearing in the House of Commons fellowing the defeat of the labor government, MacDonald announced that a general election will be held October 29. The decision was made after a conference with the cabinet.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Premier MacDonald, today requested King George to dissolve parliament, thus necessitating a general election.

The Prime Minister made known his decision to the cabinet when he returned to Downing Street after a 45-minute conference with the King in Buckingham Palace. His announcement was expected following the Labor Government's defeat in the House of Commons last night when a liberal proposal that a committee be appointed to investigate the dropping of proceedings against a Communist editor who had been charged with sedition. The vote was 364 to 198, the Conservation solidly backing the proposal.

Election day probably will be set for Nov. 8 as there is little likelihood the King will refuse to grant a dissolution. The Labor Cabinet, the first to hold office in England is not expected to resign until the nation has stated its judgment at the polls and then only if the vote is against the party.

When the House of Common reconvenes at 3 p. m. it is believed that MacDonald will have gained the King's assent to this effect.

The adverse vote last night was the thirteenth defeat incurred by the Laborites in their nine months in office. Political observers generally believe the conservatives will make gains in the election, the Laborites holding their own and the Liberals losing. The present line-up, is, Conservatives 257; Laborites 193 and Liberals 156. It is almost certain that the conservatives will remain the strongest party numerically and it is likely that ex-Premier Baldwin will be returned to the head of the next Cabinet.

ROTARIANS HOLD LUNCHEON FOR VISITING MEMBERS

The Mexia Rotary Club held its usual weekly meeting at noon at the High School cafeteria, where honor guests were fellow Rotarians in attendance upon the Synod of Texas.

Vice President I. W. Keys served as leader in the absence of President Hardy Eubanks, who was unable to preside on account of sickness. He was present, however, in order to maintain his 100 per cent attendance.

Among the guests introduced were
C. I. Broad, Paris.
J. A. McMillion, Alpine.
Rev. T. A. Davis, Port Arthur.
Frank Wear, Paris.
M. W. Cunningham, Amarillo.
E. A. Shelton, El Paso.
Bob Joiner, Gainesville.
J. E. Aubrey, Denison.
J. W. Culberson, Wichita Falls.
Nat Grofton, Wichita Falls.
Roy B. Bass, Mexia.
R. G. Chapman, Dallas.

An entertainment feature of the program was singing by high school girls. Mr. Keys thanked them and Mrs. Armstrong and Superintendent C. A. Puckett for the entertainment and the delicious luncheon.

George Willets was in charge of the program, which was one of the most enjoyable yet held under the auspices of Mexia Rotary. Buck Tidwell gave a classification talk, giving in his inimitable style a dissertation on his manner of handling Purina feeds.

Buck was followed by Rev. J. E. Aubrey of Denison, father of Rev. Victor K. Aubrey, Synod's Pastor Host.

He delivered an inspiring address on the value of Rotary in putting to work the Ten Commandments and Golden Rule, especially among the boys and girls.

Rev. Bob Joiner, of Gainesville made a splendid address on the Spirit of Rotary and took occasion to praise Superintendent Puckett, formerly of Gainesville. His remarks were highly appreciated by the gathering, indicating that they were fully in accord with the sentiment expressed regarding the Mexia school man.

ZACHARY IN BOX WINS VICTORY IN SIXTH GAME

Zachary was today's hero in the sixth game of the World's Series, when he pitched a 7 hit game for the Washington Senators, defeating the New York Giants by the score of 2 to 1.

The Senators came into the game fighting with their backs to the wall determined to prevent the Giants from winning the world's championship, which would have been the result had the New York Club been victors.

Art. Nehf who has been suffering with an injured hand for the past several days took the mound for the Giants and pitched his usual air-tight game, but John McGraw saw fit to pull him in the eighth inning replacing him with Ryan, who held his own for the remaining two innings.

One of the largest crowds yet to attend a world series game played at Washington was on hand to help the Senators put over their greatest effort of the season to save the day. Today's game was a rare specimen of baseball, only one error being made during the entire game.

Peckinpaugh, the hero of the Senators who was out of yesterday's game on accout of an injured leg, played one of the best games of his career up until the ninth inning when he again hurt the injured member in attempting to make a hard catch and had to be removed from the game. Bluege was moved from his position on third base to cover short for Peckinpaugh, while Taylor was placed on third.

Possibly Harris, the Senator's manager, deserves as much credit for their victory as does Zachary. Harris came to the bat in the last of the fifth inning with two men on base and hit a single, scoring Peckinpaugh and McNeely.

Nehf became a little wild in the sixth inning and walked two men but came out of the difficulty without assistance.

Washington's victory today tied the games of the world series giving each three games to their cerdit, the deciding game will be played at Washington Friday afternoon. Tickets for Friday's game were put on sale within an hour after the final ball was pitched today. President Coolidge is one of the most interested fans in the capitol city, he was on hand five minutes before the start of the game.

It is not known who will be the batteries in Friday's game.

Two books, of about three hundred pages each, bound in half leather, are soon to be published by the University Press. One of these books, "Birds of Texas," was written by George Finlay Simmons, who is at present in the South Sea Islands. Publication of this volume has been delayed on account of the author's absence.

Last April 1500 copies of a book entitled "Legends of Texas" was published and proved to be so popular that a second edition of 1250 copies is in press and will be ready for sale early in November. Court Criminal Appeals At Work

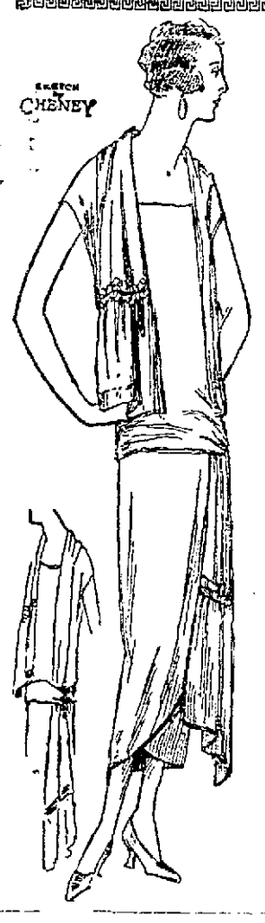
(By United Press)

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 9.—Twenty-four cases already have been affirmed and eight reversed and remanded by the Criminal Court of Appeals during the new term session.

Cases affirmed include: Alex Bridges, Llano county, murderer of Bart Cooper, life sentence; Alton Parker, Jones county, criminal assault, 10 years; O. G. Glasco, Lamar county, arson, two years; Marisio Valdez, oGnzales county, murder, 10 years; R. C. Dennington, Knox county, false swearing in aiding his brother to obtain a marriage license, two years.

The case of Matthew Thomas, Bastrop county, criminal assault, ninety nine years, was reversed and remanded. The subject of the assault was a woman 47 years old whose mother testified she was afflicted with epilepsy. It was incumbent upon the state to show by competent testimony that the defendent had knowledge of the woman's mental condition. Failure to produce this evidence constituted error and cause for reversal.

SMART SIMPLICITY IS ACHIEVED BY THIS FROCK OF FROSTKREPE



MAKING both ends meet is by no means the problem of this charming frock of Frostkrepe. It is a question rather of keeping them as far apart as possible. One would hardly suspect that the graceful scarf falling over the right shoulder, and the flowing sash, are part of the bodice. But so it is. The secret is this. The bodice is prolonged into two ends on the left side and these are simply knotted, one end being thrown upward, passing around the neck and falling over the shoulder; while the other end falls along the skirt in sash fashion.

The influence of the scarf still appears in the frocks of the new mode, but it is now merely a touch rather than the enveloping accessory of the earlier season. Jenny, says Henry Creange, uses yokes on many of her dresses, making them of chiffon and prolonging them in a scarf which winds around the neck and is knotted at the side. A late cable received by the Cheney Style Service from Patou's opening, advises us that "Patou's necklines are en bateau or round in front and pointed at the back; often a band is fixed to the decollete in front and the ends are tied at the back, or else two narrow panels hang from the shoulders and are tied together." Coming back to the model sketched, smart simplicity is really the quality of this frock. There is absolutely no trimming, the characteristic sparkle of the material giving sufficient life to the aspect. Two rows of shirring, however, are interestingly used to simulate scarf ends.

The skirt of this frock, by the way, is made in approved wrap around style or as the French more picturesquely say, "en portefeuille."

One Escaped, One Killed In Fall

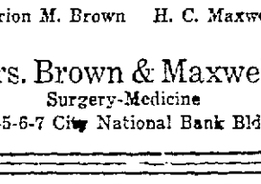
(By United Press)

DALLAS, Teas, Oct. 9.—"Sure lucky he didn't get killed," remarked J. M. Hopp to a group of fellow workmen at the Sunset High School now under construction, speaking of his friend John Boyd who was injured from a fall a scaffold.

Three hours later Hopp died from a fall of practically the same nature as that of his friend. Details of the fatal slip are not known. He was picked up in an unconscience state at the foot of a starway, but doctors at the hospital to which he was rushed could do nothing.

Funeral services were held this (Thursday) morning.

Judge Louis T. Carpenter of Dallas is here for the Synod. He is one of the leading Presbyterians in Texas.



As Mild as Morning Dew!

"Impossible!" you may say, but a test will prove it a fact. A new mild and non-sickening calomel has been perfected—one that men, women and children can take with the greatest of safety. It is free from impurities that cause salivation, free from cramping, griping, drastic effects, free from all unpleasantness. It works on a new principle. The purest English calomel is combined with pepsin. The pepsin dissolves slowly and allows the calomel to be absorbed into the system without forming a strong calomel solution. That is why it cannot sicken. From your druggist. Prepared by the Pepsinated Calomel Co., Atlanta, Ga.

RHEUMATISM
Leaves You Forever

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenrhu, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenrhu has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and piteous and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen of Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of Allenrhu, who far many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not, want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenrhu decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance. Anderson & Horn can supply you. (adv.)

FEATURED PLAYER IN "EMPTY HANDS" IS A PHILOSOPHER

Jack Holt, who has the featured male role in "Empty Hands," a Victor Fleming-Paramount production at the National Theatre today is a philosopher of no mean ability. Some of his sayings are well know thruout filmdom. Here are a few of them:

When an extra ceases to look for glory and fame and welcomes a day's work because it means a few dollars, ambition suffers a cruel blow.

Bank presidents are not made in a day; neither do Senators rise overnight. No one can be a star on his first entrance into motion pictures. Anybody can direct a motion picture in his own mind. It is the hard facts of actual direction that distinguish a real director.

Holt is a practical philosopher, that is to say, he practises what he preaches. Always ambitions to succeed, he struggled along for years playing small parts cheerfully and always striving to do his best. Today, despite the fact that he is one of screendom's greatest favorites, he works just as hard as when he was an obscure extra.

And that is as it should be!

JOY KILLS INVENTOR WHO PERFECTS NEW AIR MOTOR

ROME, Oct. 9.—Extreme joy over having perfected a new type of compressed air motor is believed by medical authorities to have been responsible for the death of Viviano Generini, aged sixty-one.

The aged inventor's lifeless body was found lying across the motor in his experimental shop, where he had worked indefatigably for many years.

HOW'S BUSINESS?

"Judging by my own experiences I believe the automobile business is better in Mexia now than it was this time last year," said Oliver Gilmore, when asked the usual question.

Oliver moved about a year ago from a location opposite the present high school building on Red River street to a larger building and business on South Belknap, recently locating about a block further west on Fannin street.

"There are probably ten or twelve fewer garages and repair shops than were found in Mexia a few months ago, while the tax collector's records show a continually increasing registration of motor cars in the county, "remarked Mr. Gilmore in substantiation. "While I do not carry a large stock of automobile accessories, I sell gasoline and oils, and make a specialty of repairing, general motor work. My business is considerably better than a year ago, or for that matter, better than at any time since I have been in business in Mexia. I am mighty well pleased with the old town."

Oliver says the paved streets have helped the motor car industry considerably. Repairs are principally on service cars, automobiles and trucks which go through the daily grind of hard service and wear, while the pleasure car is not such an item in the repair shop.

USE SULPHUR TO HEAL YOUR SKIN

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arms, or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Mentho-Sulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this Mentho-Sulphur brings. Even fiery, itching eczema is dried right up.

Get a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.—(Adv.)

HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE EARLY THURSDAY MORN.

The home of W. L. Sawyers on Brooks street, East Mexia, was completely destroyed by fire about 1:25 a. m. Thursday. The fire started from inside of the dwelling, but origin is unknown.

It is reported that the home was covvered by $1,000 insurance, the furniture by about $500. The home of L. S. Reynolds, just north of the Sawyer's home suffered $150 or $200 damage according to reports, part of the roof was burned. The building was saved from complete destruction by the quick work of the Fire Department.

This is the first fire loss to marr Fire Prevention week in Mexia which started Oct. 5th. Much cleaning up has been going on around the city during the week, a general clean-up had just taken place in the neighborhood of this unfortunate occurrence.

The average girl hasn't much use for a young man who falls to mus her hair occasionally.

Gvernment foresters say that to restore redwood forests in California, secondary trees, especially Douglas fir, must be encouraged.

Salinity or the degree of saltiness of sea water, determines the migrations of some kinds of fish, and scientific study of sea water samples taken at various depths now guides the movement of fishing fleets.

Mexico's most famous tree, that under which Cortez is supposed to have sought shelter 400 years ago when driven from the Aztec capital, is slowly dying and all efforts of the tree surgeons to arrest the progress of decay have been futile.

Times have changed in the opinion of Mrs. Eliza G. Rhodes, who at 81 years of age enjoyed her first air flight at this year's Iowa State fair. When she attended the first Iowa fair, held seventy years ago, a ride in an ox cart provided her only thrill.

YEARLY FRAUDS TWO BILLIONS

Almost beyond belief, yet undoubtedly true, is the statement made in a recent report that $2,000,000,000 was literally stolen from the people of the United States during the past year, through embezzlement, forgeries, credit frauds and the sale of worthless stocks.

The report is made by the American Institute of Accountants, the highest possible authority, after a painstaking and elaborate survey. This two billion does not include losses by burglary, robbery or any violent means of separating the victims from their money. It only embarces the results of misplaced confidence.

Of this staggering sum approximately two hundred million was obtained by embezzlement and forgery; six hundred million represents credit frauds, while the stock frauds reached one billion, or a thousand million dollars.

Add to these figures the vast sums wrested from our people through other forms of dishonesty, and the total would be utterly beyond human comprehension. It is a serious indictment of both the honesty and the intelligence of a large portion of our citizenship.

Those who were induced to contribute to the billion dollar pot cleaned up by the fake stock jobbers have some claim to sympathy, no doubt, yet practically every newspaper and periodical in the land has repeatedly warned its readers against investing in wildcat schemes.

It appears that as soon as one crop of "suckers" is skinned a new and larger bunch comes on to meet the same fate.

* * * * *

PASSPORT FORGERIES

Evidence showing the wisdom of the Immigration Law passed by the last Congress, drastically restricting the admission of immigrants, is accumulating.

For instance, it is stated that in Paris a doctor in examining a group of Poles who had asked for visas to come to the United States as immigrants discovered that their undergarments were all new and of the same make. Investigation followed and it was found that the Poles had all bought fake passports from a combine which gave away a new union suit. In this way it was disclosed that the passports of the fifty Poles were clever forgeries.

Certainly immigrants who are willing to come into the country under false pretense cannot make good citizens. If their entrance is associated with the breaking of the law their career thereafter is more than likely to be associated with crime.

Until we have Americanized the great masses of aliens in our country at the present time we cannot afford to further complicate the situation by the admission of immigrants of this character.

Carelessness is responsible for most fires—carelessness about constructing and equipping buildings, carelessness in providing fire protection and enforcing fire prevention ordinances, and carelessness about common fire hazards.

* * * * *

The careless use of pipes, cigars and cigarettes causes countless fires. A lighted cigarette thrown through an open sidewalk grating is supposed to have caused the Baltimore conflagration.

* * * * *

Don't deposit ashes carelessly in wooden boxes, against wooden fences or other combustible surfaces.

* * * * *

Rubbish heaps are fire breeders. A clean city will have few fires.

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

WHERE WE OUTCLASS NERO.

(Dallas News.)

Fire Prevention Week represents a seven-day effort to hammer the American people into commonsensibility. Statistics are offered to prove that we have Nero badly outclassed when it comes to fiddling in the midst of conflagrations that assess increasingly heavier losses annually, and that our fiddling is most flagrant when it is applied to a concerted consideration of the problem which fire losses and the maintenance of machinery for their prevention present.

This seasonal effort to awaken the public to its all but criminal negligence in the matter of safeguarding property against fires by every means, and especially by the exercise of unremitting individual vigilance, undoubtedly has scored results during the last few years. But that they have been as satisfactory as they should have been may be doubted, when we are called upon to weigh the report which is carried in the warning and informative literature of this Fire Prevention Week.

This tells that during the last ten years the average annual fire loss has been $250,000,000. And in 1923, with all of the argument which was presented during that year for the prevention of fire, this country sustained a fire loss in excess of $508,000,000 and paid out even more than that for the maintenance and operation of waterworks systems, fire departments and fire alarms systems. The money that thus went up in smoke, never to be recovered or restored, represents an amount, it is said, but slightly less than our annual expenditure for national defense in all of its branches, but slightly less than the moneys received by the United States Government in customs revenues for 1923, and that it would have paid the total cost which personal income taxes assessed for the year, leaving millions of dollars for other purposes.

The presentation of this staggering total should make Americans think seriously along the lines of fire prevention. If fire losses in the aggregate were unpreventable, the enormity of our offending against ourselves, against society in general and against our country would not be so great. But it is expertly estimated that at least 80 per cent of all fires are preventable, and the accuracy of the estimate can hardly be challenged when the chief causes of fires are considered. These causes, especially those that represent defective building, the accumulation of litter and rubbish, the permission of inflammables in residential and business properties and the careless, flipping of the pesky cigarette stub, can be eliminated.

It is possible, through the development of common-sense thinking on the part of the individual and through stricter building regulations and frequent and exacting inspections, to reduce fire losses to half the present annual total. If that could be done, the average American would be much fatter in his pocketbook region than he is now, since he pays his part of the fire losses, whether he owns property or not.

Dangerous Varicose Veins Can Be Reduced

Never mind what people say, if you have varicose or swollen veins and want to reduce them to normal, go to any live druggist and ask for an original two-ounce bottle of Emerald Oil (full strength.) If he hasn't it, he can get it.

Apply it to the enlarged veins as directed and improvement will be noticed in a few days. Continue its use until veins return to normal size. It is guaranteed to reduce swollen veins or money back, and also to reduce swollen glands, goitre and wens.—(Adv.)

BUMPS ON YOUR FACE MAKE PEOPLE SCRINGE

People who have been embarrassed repeatedly on account of disfigured skin on their face, neck, arms, and hands, caused by eczema, tetter, rash, boils, pimples, etc., are nearly always sensitive about these things to the point of feeling that everybody is watching them and talking about how bad they look.

For this reason Black and White Ointment, and Black and White Soap are making friends by the thousands because people can get them from their nearest dealer without a lot of explanations, and they do quickly get rid of all those skin ruiners.

The 50c size of the Ointment contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have both the Ointment and the Soap.—(Adv.)

The Woman Who Knows

Houston, Texas—"Because of my father-in-law having been benefited by taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery while living with us, I knew about Dr. Pierce's remedies. I knew about his poor health and how he gained strength, could rest and sleep better and was more active and cheerful. Later on it became necessary for me to take a woman's tonic, and I chose Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. After the first few doses I felt better, and now recommend it very highly for women during middle age."—Mrs. Fannie Disheron, 2211 Center St. All dealers. Liquid or tablet form.

WESTMINSTER AND LON MORRIS JUNIOR COLLEGE ELEVENS CLASH ON LOCAL GRIDIRON FRIDAY 3:30

Tomorrow is the big day in Mexia, the Lon Morris College aggregation and Westminster clash on the local gridiron at 3:30 o'clock.

Coach D. E. Hawk and his squad are due to arrive at 3:25 o'clock Thursday afternoon from Jacksonville and will go immediately to Tehuacana, where they will spend most of their time while here.

Both Lon Morris and Westminster have attracted attention in this district of Junior Colleges this season. Lon Morris has defeated T. M. C. and the Wildcats have had only one score of six points against them so far this season.

Coach Chas. Lewis has arranged to have this game played on Friday instead of Saturday so as to enable the business men to come out and see a real battle. They have complained that they are not able to attend the games played on Saturday.

This will possibly be the last game to be played on the local gridiron this season by the Westminster Wildcats, no others are yet on the schedule. Next week they go to Hillsboro to clash with the Hillsboro Junior College.

Dutch Cox who sustained two broken ribs in the game with Wesley two weeks ago played in the game against T. M. C. on last week and the fractures were renewed. He has not been out in uniform in the past several days and Coach Lewis states that he will not be used in Friday's game. Jot Potter and Hunt will be used at halves while Thompson will play fullback position.

The whole town of Tehuacana backing Westminster to the last man, will be on hand if it is possible for them to get here,

A large crowd is expected from surrounding territory, as these two elevens expect to fight to the finish. It is reported that the two squads are evenly matched in weight making a display of real football an assurance. This is the second Junior College game to be played in Mexia, the other drawing a record crowd for a football game.

The lineup given out for the start of the game for the Westminster Wildcats is as follows:

L. E. Warner, 174 lbs.
L. T. Green, 185 lbs.
L. G. Battle, 235 lbs.
C. Prince, 170 lbs.
R. G. Angel, 200 lbs.
R. T. Merrell, 175 lbs.
R. E. Roach, 170 lbs.
Q. Wilson, 165 lbs.
L. H. Hunt, 160 lbs.
R. H. Potere, Capt., 175 lbs.
Full Thompson, 185 lbs.

The average weight of these eleven men is 181 1-3 lbs.

RADIO RAMBLINGS.

By HARRY PORTER.

Here I am again after an absence of several weeks with some radio findings of the past week which I hope will prove interesting instructive and amusing.

You know gentle readers it is customary among radiophans to voice their appreciation by card or some form of communication to the station or stations when they were pleased with the program or selection rendered by said station or stations, and in that way the efforts of the broadcasters are spurred on to please their listeners. Now I don't know how my ramblings are received and am really at loss whether to continue writing or not. So you readers can send in your applause cards, telegrams, letters or complaints to H. A. P. Care News Pub. Co. Just decided to reopen this column last Tuesday and began taking notes of the things that struck my fancy, pronto and listen radiophans and readers, the Magnolia Petroleum Co. has a fine station broadcasting from Beaumont, Texas and it must be a 360 meters, 500 Watt outfit from the way it comes in over my set. They have not been at the broadcasting game long enough to polish off the rough spots as yet but they put on a fine program and are independent of outside help as far as artists are concerned for they have some wonderful material within their own ranks, their saxaphone sextet is the best I have ever heard over radio. The director Dr. Harry Cloud is the composer of Magnolia Blossom the musical hit of the 1923 Dallas Fair and a musician known to all music lovers of Texas.

K. D. K. A. Pittsburg, Pa. relaying through K. F. K. X. Hastings Nebraska were on Tuesday night rendering musical gems from the light opera, little Charley a fine program, believe me!

W. S. B. Atlanta Journal had Bill Splawn in character singing one of his songs being, "Nobody's Business If I Do."

Also Brooks Arnold Home Town String Band.

W. B. A. P. Ft. Worth Star-Telegram, put one over all the broadcasting stations Friday night, when they had Hon. Andy Gump speak in behalf of his candidacy for President. I have heard John W. Davis, Senator Wheeler and the prohibition candidate over radio but I must say that Mr. Gump certainly placed himself before the public in true Gump style and fashion in his speech to radio listeners Friday night and I hope he will retain Mr. Gallagher his campaign manager as his Tumulty when he is elected for he deserves the position. D. C. Dunn also went over big with his one string violin made from a sugar box, his rendition of "Wonderful One," was indeed soul inspiring, Miss Dodson at the piano accompanied him.

Another Scoop for W. B. A. P. beginning Oct. 13 at 4 p. m. and continuing each day thereafter they will broadcast description of missing people. So if you have anyone of you dear ones lost to you W. B. A. P. will help you find them. Just write or wire them a description and they will help you. An illustration of the efficiency of radio was given during the broadcasting of the Dixie Series. A. Mr. Davis of Omaha, Texas sent a description of his son from whom he had not heard from for some time. W. B. A. P. sent the message out one day and re-broadcasted it the next day and within 30 minutes after the second message went out Mr. Davis wired W. B. A. P. that he had heard from his son who was in Dixon, Tenn., 450 miles away.

Some gems of music with suggestive titles heard were: Bringing Home the Bacon, In A Rendezvous, To the Sweetest Little Girl in Tennessee and Put Away a Little Ray of Sunshine. It will come in handy some gray rainy day.

POISONOUS GASES DANGEROUS TO CHILDREN IN THE HOME

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 9.—With the first breath of autumn tingling in the air, the Man of the household wakes up some invigorating morning with the discovery that it is time to "put up the stoves." So that evening when he comes home he goes to the garage, the attic, or the basement and arouses the family heater from its summer sleep. And since Mr. Man is a Texan, where gas is one of the principal fuels, the stove is probably a gas heater.

Mr. Man's wife looks at the stove, rusty from its long rest, and immediately announces that it must be polished before it goes in her newly decorated dining room. Mr. Man discovers, too, that the burner is a bit wobbly and he decides to have the stove expert come out the next day and look over their faithful old friend. For he knows that his stove like his flivver, needs a thorough cleaning before it can be expected to give good service.

So the next morning Mr. Expert comes out. He says to Mr. Man's wife, "Look here, Madam, you aren't going to put up this stove without its being connected to a vent—and this old rubber hose is worn out and leaky. You ought to have a metal hose. Rubber hose is worn out and leaky. You ought to have a metal hose. Rubber hose is as obsolete as a crank on a flivver."

Mr. Man's wife has never heard about this but Mr. Expert begins to tell her how dangerous rubber hose and a ventless stove can be. And this is what he tells her:

Many of the headaches, sore throats, and colds that Mr. Man, his wife and the kiddies have every winter can be traced to the poisonous gasses that remain in the room if there is no vent pipe. One of the principal products of combustion is carbon dioxide, and while it is not poisonous, it will not support animal life. If the burner is not properly adjusted another gas is given off, carbon monoxide—the same deadly poison that comes from the exhaust of an automobile. Heaters without vent pipes should never be burned in a closed room.

The ideal gas heater is made with a closed combustion chamber which is connected with a vent pipe, but is not open to the air of the room. A heater of this kind can be burned continuously without vitiating the air in the slightest way. Further information concerning safe gas heaters may be obtained by writing the State Health Department at Austin.

CARD OF THANKS.

We take this method of thanking our friends and neighbors for their kindness in our misfortune and the many nice and useful things that have been given us. We can fully realize no matter how little one has it is worth so much to them and sincerely hope none of you will ever have the same experience.

MR. and MRS. J. I. PITTS and Children.

THIS QUAKER MAID SHOWS DIRECTOIRE INFLUENCE

THERE is a quaint and charming mixture of the Quaker and the Directoire in this afternoon frock of light grey crepe satin. The color and the demure apron and bow may seem to lean to the Quaker, but to counteract this tendency there is the dashing jabot, the sign manual of a period by no means Puritanical; while the sleeves have a thought too much flippancy for the sober Society of Friends.

The jabot, by the way, having hovered for some time on the outskirts of fashion, receiving attention merely as a symptom or indication of the Directoire mode, has become bold with the favor accorded its first modest efforts, and here appears as the piece de resistance, or, we might even go farther and say the raison d'etre of this charming gown.

For it is the falling cascade of the facings of this frock which give it its picturesque character. Not a little of its charm may also be attributed to the combination of color, the light grey of the dress, and the golden ribbon bordering the facings and making the tie.

Crepe satin, especially Mirrokrepe, is a leading fabric of the season. We are told by Henri Creange, fashion authority, that the Parisian couturiers do not tire of working original themes in this material, by using alternately the lustrous and the crepe sides.

This frock, while at first glance appearing to have little in common with the tube silhouette, will be found upon closer study to be built according to the approved formula, for the rounded apron is ingeniously applied to a narrow foundation, to give the new widened silhouette without in any way affecting the basic slim straightness of line.

DAWES MUST GET OFF BROOKHART REITERATES

CEDAR RAPIDS, Oct. 8.—"Dawes must get off the ticket and Coolidge must get on the platform. They can't fool Iowa farmers. That's my stand," declared Senator Smith Brookhart upon arrival here for an address before C. O. F. college students.

"Find The Man" —Judge Crawford

(By United Press)

DALLAS, Oct. 9.—No longer will the woman alone pay in Dallas.

The double standard of justice received a knockout here recently in Corporation's Court when Judge P. D. Crawford issued an edict that in the future vice raiders must "find the man."

Judge Crawford, in setting a precedent for American vice control declared "that it was not right to drag a woman out of a room and bring her into court bowed in shame to face the cynical smiles of men."

Dallas police must bring the man along or the woman will be discharged, the judge declared in conclusion.

A Statement About TRUE STORY

TRUE STORY is today, and it has been since its first issue in May, 1919, under the direct personal editorial superivision of Bernarr Macfadden.

In addition to a group of professional readers, through whose hands must pass every manuscript submitted to the Macfadden Publications, a ministerial board must put its seal of approval on every feature accepted for publication in TRUE STORY.

This carefulness in selection, together with the expression of the high ideals to which TRUE STORY is committed, has given it the most unique position ever attained by a magazine in the hearts and the homes of the American people.

MEXIA WELCOMES TEXAS SYNOD WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Rev. J. S. Hodges of Denison, Mederator for the Synod of Texas of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A. called the 1924 session to order at 7:30 Wednesday night its opening session at the Central Presbyterian church.

The church was taxed to accommodate the large congregation that had assembled. More than one hundred of delegates and scores of visitors from all over the state, as well as Board representatives of the denomination from out of Texas and Louisiana points, were present, heard the splendid program, of music the magnificent addresses and the able sermon.

The address of welcome was delivered by L. S. Patterson, which was pronounced by many as being the finest welcome address they had ever heard. His remarks rang with sincerity and good humor and those who heard him are not the least doubtful about the spirit of progress and hospitality abounding here.

Mr. Patterson stated that he could think of no greater honor than that which had been conferred upon him in being selected from among a fine, forward looking set of boosters and business men, to deliver the address of welcome to such a distinguished gathering. "It is an honor and a privilege," he continued, "that any business man would be proud of. It was my pleasure to preside at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce when the question of your coming was brought up for consideration by our former Secretary, Ben F. Stollenwerck and from that time on, we have heard no mention of your coming save in a joyous mood.

"Friends, it gives me great pleasure in behalf of the business men of this city to welcome you here tonight. It is to such a people as you that this country owes its prosperity. To almost every corner of the world, you have carried the blessed word of the Saviour. There is no greater calling in the world than that of teacher.

We have made wonderful advancement in Mexia within the past few years. Today we have miles and miles of paved streets. We have a fine public library and a beautiful playground. I want here to pay a tribute to some of Mexia's public spirited citizens. You will find their homes happy and beautiful and we want you folks to know that you are welcome. You want to come into our offices and use our conveniences and before you leave we want you to make a comparison and we want you to go away feeling that Mexia is glad you came. Our automobiles are at your disposal. We want you to ride over our beautiful streets and even visit our jail, the only place there is no activity is it, as it has been something like a year since it has had an occupant. We want you to feel at home. Just remember this, the latch string is out and Mexia is yours while you are with us."

To this Rev. J. S. Hodges, the Moderator, responded as follows:

In response to this address of welcome I think I detect a little evidence of conspiracy on the part of the Pastor Host and this man Patterson, for the pastor says they have been feeding the chickens in the backyard getting them fat, while Patterson says they have all been called up and hid away somewhere. I don't know whether that is a good note to sound to a bunch of preachers to tell them that all of the chickens have been hid away or not. I have been on the streets some this afternoon and I have met some of the citizens of this good city and they all talked just like these speakers who have preceded me. You hear wonderful stories about this city, about its wonderful streets, wonderful business and all of the things that citizens usually give you by boosting their home town. There is only one thing that I would like to add to what they have already told you. I have been wondering why they do not make a seaport town out of Mexia and the way that it can be done is to lay a 2 in. pipe from here to the Gulf and if he can suck as hard as he can blow they will soon have plenty of water here. However, I do not believe that would be any more true of Mexia than any other place to find citizens who will boost their home town, who have pride in their home town and who are willing to get up and say that they have wonderful things, and we are already beginning to feel very much at home. The Synod of Texas would feel that it is welcome because of the wonderful arrangements that have been made to make ourcoming one of joy and one of blessing, and we are going to try to conduct ourselves so when we get ready to leave the jail will still be empty.

H. L. Hall who tendered the invitation to the Synod to come to Mexia presented a historic gavel, made from wood used in one of the first building of old Trinity University at Tehuacana. Many of the visiting delegates had attended Trinity when it was located here and were extremely gratified at the gift.

Mr. Hall in presenting the gavel said:

Mr. Moderator and Brethren of the Texas Synod:

This beautiful little gavel which I hold in my hand, made by the Manuel Training Department of Mexia High School, and the silver plate so beautifully engraved telling the wonderful history, presented and made by L. S. Patterson Jewelry Store is really beautiful, but its intrinsic value as compared with the history is small indeed, for sirs, its history is enthroned in the minds and hearts of thousands of men and women throughout this broad State of Texas, for this gavel was made from a piece of timber secured from the original building at Tehuacana Hills in which Trinity University was first founded in 1869, and it is my privilege and pleasure in behalf of the Central Presbyterian Church and the entire citizenship of Mexia to present it through you to the Synod of Texas now assembled in our midst.

Rev. Hodges delivered a masterful sermon on "Mountain Movers" using as his text Luke 24:44 48. No man is so low in sin but that Jesus can save him, he stated. "The whole wide world must be taken for Jesus and we in our day must not be slackers on the job. Let us marshal all our means to the securing of workers for the generation to follow us. From one generation to another the work shall go on until away yonder in the golden future the last word will be preached and millions will serve Him, and the time will be when every knee shall bow and every tongue shall confess that Jesus is the Christ to the glory of God the Father."

Following roll call, Rev. G. H. Hogan, D. D. pastor of the church at Waxahachie, was elected moderator, taking the gavel immediately, his duties then beginning.

President Coolidge Congratulates Faithful Postal Employe for His Frustration of Attempted Robbery

President Coolidge's appreciation of the faithful service of postal employes was emphasized when Eugene Stack, youthful postal clerk, was summoned to Washington and rewarded and honored for his heroism in frustrating a mail robbery recently at East Orange, N. J.

This latest hero of the Government's army of civilian employes was given a reward of $2,000, officially cited by the Post Office Department and then was taken by Postmaster General New to the White House where he was congratulated by President Coolidge. The President was keenly interested in Mr. Stack's heroic act, and listened attentively while the postal worker told how, after having been wounded by bandits, he shot and killed one of them and routed the other in protecting valuable registered mail. Mr. Stack was wounded twice. He has won expressions of admiration from the entire postal service, as well as from many individuals throughout the country.

In presenting the reward in behalf of the government, and commending him for his bravery and faithful performance of his duty, Postmaster General New told Stack that the Army and Navy decorated their men for conspicuous acts of bravery, but the Post Office Department had no way of doing that other than to place in an employe's record a citation for such acts. The reward given Mr. Stack is the limit allowed by Congress, and Postmaster General New said he considered the citation of far greater value than the reward. The document, which was presented in the presence of postal and other government officials, cited Stack for conspicuous loyalty to the service in defending the mails at the peril of his life, and recorded the government's appreciation of his bravery.

GO TO CHURCH OCTOBER 19.

Last Sunday Rev. W. B. Andrews announced that October 19th next Sunday week—will be "Go-To-Church"Sunday for all Mexia Methodists. Automobiles will be provided for the old people and the shutins. It will be the pleasure of all the faithful attendants to see that every Methodist, whether by consanguinity, adoption or otherwise, gets an insistent urge to go to church that day. The choir promises to do its best that day. Old hymns will be sung. The pastor says he does his best every Sunday, but that day he hopes to do his best best.

J. E. Simco has bought from J. W. Ward the large building just across from the T. and B. V. tracks, opposite the Berry Barnett Grocery Company and is tearing same down for removal to 6½ acres of land recently bought from J. L. Thompson near the J. W. Radley place. He is to use it in building a home and other houses.

Daniel G. Carey M. D.

The small delicate sieves in the kidneys clog up—the poisons that should strain through and pass out with the water back up and get into the system—this means uremic poisoning and may mean the loss of some loved one.

Best for all of us to look the facts in the face and heed nature's plain danger signals.

The life work of Doctor Daniel G. Carey was the study of diseases of the urinary system and his famous prescription of roots and herbs known the country over as Dr. Carey's Marshroot Prescription 777 has helped others to get well—and stay well.

If you have backache or frequent headaches, if your sleep is disturbed and you get up in the night, if your eyes are puffy and palms moist, cut out this notice, take it to your druggist, and say, "This is what I want: Dr. Carey's Marshroot Prescription No. 777."

You can always get it in liquid or tablet form at Anderson & Horn's for 75c. Both are equally effective and if you aren't glad in a week's time that you bought it, just get your money back—that's the way this successful medicine is sold.—(Adv.)
